

Up and Go

If you exercise just a few times a week, you'll give your immune system a boost and reduce your chances of catching a cold.